Executive Summary

The purpose of the 2018 SE MN Housing Tool Kit is to provide information, resources, and ideas—“the tools”—necessary to promote and facilitate the workforce housing needs of Southeast Minnesota.

The need for workforce housing, housing that is available near local jobs and affordable at local wages—is prominent in Southeastern Minnesota. The Minnesota Housing Financing Agency identified in 2014 a number of the following trends that remain prevalent throughout Southeast Minnesota today:

- Economic growth will continue at a modest rate, but will fail to compensate for the much anticipated exponential growth of the housing market. Incomes will likely struggle to keep pace with the expected housing increases. The result is a decrease in the affordability of housing for the workforce.

- New households are developing as a result of a stronger economy, increasing the demand for housing. The result is a decrease in availability of housing for the workforce.

- Many communities have experienced significant job growth, correlating with the declining unemployment rates state wide. To accommodate this growth additional housing is needed. The result is a decrease in the availability of housing for the workforce.

- Rental property vacancy rates are low, indicating a shortage of rental housing. The result is a decrease in the availability of housing for the workforce.

These trends suggest that the workforce is vulnerable to experience a housing crisis without concerted action from stakeholders—including the workforce (renters, buyers, and homeowners), developers, investors, local governments and communities. This toolkit provides tools in five core areas:

RENTAL TOOLS
ACQUISITION TOOLS
DEVELOPMENT TOOLS
REHABILITATION TOOLS

DEVELOPMENT TOOLS

Small Cities Development Program (SCDP)
The Minnesota Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) created the SCDP to help cities and counties with funding for housing, public infrastructure, and commercial rehabilitation projects. Projects must benefit people of low and moderate incomes, eliminate slum and blight conditions—or eliminate an urgent threat to public health or safety.

Workforce Housing Development Program
This competitive funding program targets small to mid-size cities in Greater Minnesota with rental workforce housing needs. Funding is available to build market rate residential rental properties in communities with proven job growth and demand for workforce rental housing. Communities are required to secure matching funds, one dollar for every two dollars in funding offered through the program. This program was previously administered by the Department of Employment and Economic Development (DEED) and is now administered by Minnesota Housing.

Small Cities Development Program (SCDP)

In addition, need, impact and cost effectiveness must be documented and the general public must be involved in the application process. Cities with fewer than 50,000 residents and counties with fewer than 200,000 residents are eligible. This state run program rules subdivide grant funds into three general categories:

1) Housing Grants— are granted to local units of government, which, in turn, lend funds for the purpose of rehabilitating local housing stock.
2) Public Facility Grants— are granted for wastewater treatment project, including collection systems and treatment plants; wells, water towers and distribution systems.
3) Comprehensive Grants— projects frequently include housing and public facility activities described above. In addition, comprehensive projects may include an economic development activity, which consists of loans from the grant recipient to businesses for building, rehabilitation to façade improvements, code violations, and health and safety issues. The most common economic development activity is rehabilitation of local commercial districts.

• New Market Tax Credits (NMTC) Program

The NMTC Program attracts private capital into low-income communities by permitting individual and corporate investors to receive a tax credit against their federal income tax in exchange for making equity investments in specialized financial intermediaries called Community Development Entities (CDEs). The credit totals 39% of the original investment amount and is claimed over a period of seven years.

Historically, low-income communities experience a lack of investment, as evidenced by vacant commercial properties, outdated manufacturing facilities, and inadequate access to education and healthcare service providers. The New Market Tax Credit Program (NMTC Program) aims to break this cycle of disinvestment by attracting the private investment necessary to reinvigorate struggling local economies.

As it pertains to housing, an example of a Qualified Low-Income Community Investments (QLICIs) is a business that develops or rehabilitates for-sale housing units located in a Low-Income Community (LIC).

For more information, please see the attached NMTC Program Fact Sheet in Addendum A or the U.S. Department of the Treasury Community Development Financial Institutions Fund.
